

A Statement from Direct Sparklers

Our thoughts and best wishes are with you during this unsettling time. Together, we will persevere and emerge stronger than ever as a nation. To achieve this mark, all of us have a responsibility in slowing the spread of COVID-19.

At Direct Sparklers, the health and well-being of our employees, customers and communities are above all else. We're adhering to the recommendations presented by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and World Health Organization (WHO), along with guidelines from state governments to ensure a safe workplace for our team and community. Part of the steps taken include:

- Remote working for office staff
- Strictly enforcing social distancing in our warehouses
- Increased cleaning and sanitation procedures

With respect to production and order fulfillment, we continue to operate and fulfill orders and provide same day shipping, as you've come to expect.

As always, we'll continue to monitor the situation and update you on the latest information as it becomes available. We hope you and your loved ones stay healthy, and thank you for your support and understanding during this time.
